

VAUDRA INTERNATIONAL

Investigations & Brand Protection Solutions

Uncovering Actionable Intelligence to Drive Informed Decisions.

Established in 2003, Vaudra International provides innovative, yet practical, investigative and enforcement solutions to corporations, trademark owners, and their counsel. With a corporate focus on intellectual property investigations, our methods and strategies are adaptable to meet most any challenge, regardless of industry, brand, or location. Our investigations are customized based on your target objectives and parameters, whether relatively simple or highly complex in nature.

Developing lasting partnerships with our clients is fundamental to who we are and how we operate. As a client-centric organization, our clients value the high quality of our work and consistency of our professionalism and service, regularly referring their colleagues.

We are a team of dedicated brand protection specialists with varied backgrounds and experiences that fuel our collective successes for clients and as a company. We focus on your end goal and reaching it efficiently while maintaining the integrity of the investigation and viability of the evidence to best support your case.

Mission

Partnering with clients & colleagues in impactful ways that extend beyond investigative services to develop comprehensive brand protection strategies, value enhancing solutions & collaborative resources.

Methodology

The combination of databases, open-source intelligence and creativity differentiates our tradecraft. This approach extends to internal collaboration, covert resources and outsourced assets, all integrated seamlessly. Our virtual investigative techniques empower our global reach, with the flexibility to engage our international network of investigators, informants and specialists for additional support when needed.

Our proficiency and ingenuity yield cost-effective end-to-end solutions for our clients.
